Freeding on your personal Computer and eReader such as: Nook, Kobo, and Sony Reader

NOTE: Freeding eBooks cannot be downloaded from a library computer

<input type="checkbox"/>	Using an Internet browser, visit https://bartoncounty.freading.com .
<input type="checkbox"/>	Log in using your Library Card Number and PIN .
<input type="checkbox"/>	Download and install Adobe Digital Editions . You can do this by going to http://adobe.com/products/digitaleditions . Follow the prompts on the screen to create an Adobe ID . NOTE: Be sure to write down and save your Adobe ID and password, you may need it again to authenticate devices.
<input type="checkbox"/>	You may be required to “authorize” the computer with the Adobe ID . If not, in the menu bar in the upper left side there is a down arrow. Click on this, to see the drop down menu. Find and select the option “Authorize Computer...” Enter your Adobe ID and password that you created. This is not your library card number and password you will use for Freeding.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Browse the collection for an eBook.
<input type="checkbox"/>	A dialog box will appear. Click the Open button to proceed with the download. NOTE: If you are using Safari on a Mac, you will have to open the Downloads folder and double-click on the eBook file to open it. The eBook will open in Adobe Digital Editions . You can enjoy the eBook on your computer.
<input type="checkbox"/>	If you would like to transfer Freeding eBooks to your eReader, start by connecting your eReader to your computer with the USB cord. (with Digital Editions still open)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Adobe Digital Editions will recognize the device the first time you plug it in. It will ask if you would like to authorize the device. Do this now, and it will be authorized with the same ID and password as the computer, making transfer of eBooks simple. Go through the setup assistant to activate your eReader.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Drag the eBook from the borrowed items list and drop it on top of the eReader device icon. The eBook will be transferred to your device. NOTE: On the NOOK COLOR the eBooks do not appear in the My Documents folder. Typically they will be found in the My Files folder.
